Nothing that is written in these processes below prevents a staff member or any other person from taking immediate action to notify Queensland Police Service and/or the Department of Child Safety, Youth and Women, particularly if he/she believes that it is essential to act to ensure a student's safety.

Reporting

Reporting Processes

All reports are to be lodged using the MIC Student Protection Reporting Form.

This section of the processes sets out a summary of the actions that must be taken if a staff member has concerns or suspicions, or makes allegations about abuse of, or harm to, a student or if there is a report of behaviour by a staff member that a student considers is inappropriate.

In general terms, the process for responding to and reporting student protection concerns is as follows:

Identify

Identify student protection concerns through recognising the signs of abuse and harm, and through disclosures or receipt of information;

Confer

Seek guidance and support – if necessary, confer with the Principal or appropriate colleagues, to establish whether a ‘reasonable suspicion’ has been formed;

Report

Where a reasonable suspicion of abuse, harm or inappropriate behaviour is formed;

Support

Remain focussed on the support needs of the student and liaise with the Principal around any planning or actions that are required.

Dealing with a Report of Inappropriate Behaviour

A staff member who receives a report of inappropriate behaviour must report it to the Principal. Where the Principal is the subject of the report of inappropriate behaviour, the staff member must inform a member of the school's governing body.

Reporting Sexual Abuse

Section 366 of the Education (General Provisions) Act 2006 states that if a staff member becomes aware, or reasonably suspects in the course of their employment at the school, that any of the following has been sexually abused by another person:

- a student under 18 years attending the school;
- a kindergarten age child registered in a kindergarten learning program at the school;
- a person with a disability who:-
  - under section 420(2) of the Education (General Provisions) Act 2006 is being provided with special education at the school; and
  - is not enrolled in the preparatory year at the school;

then the staff member must give a written report about the abuse or suspected abuse to the Principal or to a director of the school's governing body immediately.

The school's Principal or the director of the school's governing body must immediately give a copy of the report to a police officer.

If the first person who becomes aware or reasonably suspects sexual abuse is the school's Principal, the Principal must give a written report about the abuse, or suspected abuse to a police officer immediately and must also give a copy of the report to a director of the school's governing body.

If a written report has been provided directly to a director of the school's governing body in the first instance, this report must immediately be given to a police officer.

A report under this section must include the following particulars:

- the name of the person giving the report (the first person);
- the student's name and sex;
- details of the basis for the first person becoming aware, or reasonably suspecting, that the student has been sexually abused by another person;
- details of the abuse or suspected abuse;
- any of the following information of which the first person is aware:-
  - the student's age;
  - the identity of the person who has abused, or is suspected to have abused, the student;

- the identity of anyone else who may have information about the abuse or suspected abuse.

The Student Protection Reporting Form is attached as Appendix A is consistent with these requirements.

Reporting Likely Sexual Abuse

Section 366A of the Education (General Provisions) Act 2006 states that if a staff member reasonably suspects in the course of their employment at the school, that any of the following is likely to be sexually abused by another person:-

- a student under 18 years attending the school;
- a kindergarten age child registered in a kindergarten learning program at the school;
- a person with a disability who:-
  - under section 420(2) of the Education (General Provisions) Act 2006 is being provided with special education at the school; and
  - is not enrolled in the preparatory year at the school

then the staff member must give a written report about the suspicion to the Principal or to a director of the school's governing body immediately.

The school's Principal or the director of the school's governing body must immediately give a copy of the report to a police officer.

If the first person who reasonably suspects likely sexual abuse is the school's Principal, the Principal must give a written report about the suspicion to a police officer immediately and must also give a copy of the report to a director of the school's governing body.

A report under this section must include the following particulars:-

- the name of the person giving the report (the first person);
- the student's name and sex;
- details of the basis for the first person reasonably suspecting that the student is likely to be sexually abused by another person;
- any of the following information of which the first person is aware:-
  - the student's age;
  - the identity of the person who has abused, or is suspected to be likely to abuse, the student;
  - the identity of anyone else who may have information about suspected likelihood of abuse.

The Student Protection Reporting Form is attached as Appendix A is consistent with these requirements.

Reporting Physical and Sexual Abuse where the child may not have a parent able and willing to protect them from the harm.

Under Section 13E of the Child Protection Act 1999, if a doctor, a registered nurse or a teacher forms a 'reportable suspicion' about a child in the course of their engagement in their profession, they must make a written report.

A reportable suspicion about a child is a reasonable suspicion that the child: -

- has suffered, is suffering, or is at unacceptable risk of suffering, significant harm caused by physical or sexual abuse; and
- may not have a parent able and willing to protect the child from the harm.

The doctor, nurse or teacher must give a written report to the Chief Executive of the Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services (or other department administering the Child Protection Act 1999). The doctor, nurse or teacher should then give a copy of the report to the Principal.

A report under this section must include the following particulars:-

- state the basis on which the person has formed the reportable suspicion; and
- include the information prescribed by regulation, to the extent of the person's knowledge.

Reporting Template

A reporting template which is compliant with the relevant Regulations and consistent with Education Queensland's SP4 Form is attached as Appendix A.

Awareness and Implementation

If staff members, parents or students require further information in relation to any of the processes described in this document, and/or other student protection compliance requirements, advice should be obtained from the Principal or the College's Student Protection Officers.

The Child Protection policy is present on the schools website and also included in the parent and staff handbooks. Class teachers share information to parents regarding the Child protection policy during our 'Back to School Nights' held in the week before the start of each new school year. The Early Years and Primary teachers are also required to share information to the children in the first weeks of the school year and the Student Protection Officers visit the classrooms during this time. The Secondary College follows similar steps and has also included the Child Protection policy in student school diaries. Included in the Child Protection Policy is information regarding complaints. Suggestions of non-compliance with the schools' processes may be submitted as complaints as per the complaints policy.

Training

At the beginning of every school year during faculty week the college provides in-service training to all staff in legal compliance with Child protection legislation and other matters contained within the policy. Student Protection Officers are introduced to the whole staff at each in- service training and staff are presented with a number of scenarios to test their knowledge regarding the reporting of harm. All staff new to the College are provided in-service training in legal compliance with Child protection legislation as part of their induction. During the year all staff must demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of Child Protection by completing mandatory online testing via SALT (Self administered Legal Training). Mid year the College has Suzanne Brooks [Education Law Specialist Barrister, Suzanne Brooks. B.A.(UQ), M.ED.(NOTRE DAME USA), LLB HONS.(UQ).] visits the school to provide face-to-face training for all staff. This annual visit usually follows the July review of the Child Protection policy. Student Protection Contacts are provided in-service training from the Principal during senior leadership meetings at the beginning of each year and also again mid-year.

Consequences of Breach of Policy

Conduct which breaches this Policy may result in criminal penalties as decided by legal process; in all such cases the Principal will stand down a Staff Member pending the result of investigation by the Police.

Other breaches of this policy, which may not result in external penalties, will result in consequences imposed by the Principal and may include:

- apology
- counselling
- warning
- demotion
- suspension
- standing aside
- termination
- expulsion (in the case of a Student)

Where a complaint / allegation is found to have no substance, every effort will be made to reinstate the alleged offender's status and reputation.

Protection for Notifier

The Child Protection Act 1999 provides for the confidentiality of information supplied by the person making a notification.

Also, Section 22 of the Act provides for the protection from civil liability for persons, who, acting honestly, notify or give information about suspected harm to a Child. It states that merely because the person gives the notification or information, the person cannot be held to have breached any code of professional etiquette or ethics, or departed from accepted standards of professional conduct.

In accordance with this Act the College will protect the identity of the Notifier of information – unless required otherwise by Law.

Record Keeping

Any Staff Member who has concerns about the safety or wellbeing of a Child, either suspicious or disclosed, must:

- keep anecdotal records of observations, focusing on the persistence of indicators over time and the severity of effects;
- if speaking to a Child, keep questions to what/where/when;
- take only short notes – must not investigate;
- present such documentation to a Student Protection Contacts. (Appendix A)

Should the Principal need to interview the Child further, the same procedures must be followed. Records must be kept in a locked file by the Principal.
